VOL. VIII. NO. 38 | FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1894 | PRICE—5 CENTS

THE STANFORD ESTATE

The Government Willing to Commence Suit

BEFORE A DEFAULT IN PAYMENTS

A Speedy Adjudication of the Claim in the Interests of the Estate.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—There is reason to believe the government claim against the estate of ex-Senator Stanford will be tested in the courts before there has been any actual default in payments. Under the conditions the attorney general proposed if the executrix would waive any rights she might have by reason of the premature bringing of the suit he would gladly consent to have the proceedings begin at once. No conclusion has yet been reached, but it is expected no objections would be made to that course, especially as a speedy adjudication of the claim would be in the interest of the estate. The suit also would determine the status of the government claim against C. P. Huntington and others, and on the whole on early settlement of the claims would be in the interest of all concerned.

ON A BIG SPREE.

Plunger Partridge Undergoing Treatment for Alcoholism.

CHICAGO, August 14.—Strapped to his bed in a barren room of his Washington home "Plunger" Edward Partridge, who yesterday threw the board of trade into a turmoil by fighting with the doorkeeper, is undergoing the most rigorous treatment for alcoholism. He was brought to his home yesterday by his son and was placed in charge of doctors by force. He was extremely violent when locked in the room with barred windows. He managed to free his hands from the leather handcuffs and made a great outcry, declaring an effort was being made to kill him. He nearly brained the guard with a chair when an attempt was made to quiet him. Partridge is one of the most prominent men on the Chicago board of trade. He is a multi-millionaire, proprietor of one of the largest dry goods stores in this city, and one of the most successful and gigantic operators on the board of trade. For months he has been on the bear side of the wheat market and lately he has been drinking heavily and has created a number of violent scenes on 'change.

Government Revenue.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—Treasury officials anticipate a very great increase in the receipts from internal revenue sources within the next ten days, in case the President allows the tariff bill to become a law. During the next ten days the internal revenue receipts are expected to reach $1,600,000 a day. The custom officials of the treasury also expect a marked increase in the custom receipts from now on and particularly during the next month or so. Large quantities of goods now held in the bonded warehouses at New York, Boston and other large sea ports will be withdrawn as soon as possible after the bill becomes a law to meet the demands of the fall trade.

Calaveras Democrats.

ANGELS CAMP, August 14.—The Democratic county convention held here today made the following nominations: Assemblyman, A. J. McSorley; superintendent of schools, W. J. Sinclair; sheriff, Ben K. Thorne; coroner, William O. Sevenson; district attorney, John J. Snyder; tax collector, Henry Wesson; assessor, William H. Nuner; surveyor, A. H. Coulter; county clerk and treasurer, vacant. For delegates to state convention, W. F. Fagen, E. J. Borger, B. H. Lewis, Tall Hawes, Thomas E. McSorley. At large, H. Clary, C. H. Fox and L. R. Tulloch.

Received an Infernal Machine.

CHICAGO, August 14.—City Alderman John Coughlan received by mail today a infernal machine labeled photographs, so wrapped as to appear like a package of cardboard. The machine was evidently intended to explode when opened but failed. When examined by the city chemist it was pronounced very dangerous. Alderman Coughlan has been prominent in the crusade against opium joints, and it is believed the receipt of the infernal machine is the result of his activity against the proprietors of these joints.

A Drummer Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 14.—J. H. Whitehouse, a traveling salesman for a soap firm, was killed in a Western addition saloon about 5 o'clock this evening by Albert Mace, a fruit dealer. The men were shaking dice in the back room and became involved in a quarrel, and it is believed that Whitehouse called Mace a foul name and was promptly knocked down, striking his head on the floor and receiving injuries from which he died soon afterwards. No one else was in the room at the time and Mace is very reticent.

The New Chinese Treaty.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—The Chinese minister had a long conference with the state department today, and with Secretary Gresham respecting the concluding phases of the negotiations upon the new Chinese exclusion treaty just ratified by the senate. The minister has notified his government of his action, and as soon as the treaty is ratified in China the documents will be mailed to the United States, and ratifications will be exchanged in Washington, all of which is expected to consume about six weeks.

A Congressman Resigns.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., August 14.—Governor Fishback today received a telegram from Clifton R. Breckinridge resigning his seat in congress. A special election to fill the vacancy has been called for September 3d.

Bland Renominated.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., August 14.—Democrats of the Eighth Missouri congressional district, in convention at California, Mo., today renominated Richard P. Bland for congress for the twelfth consecutive time.

The Chinese Driven Off.

YOKOHAMA, August 14.—News has been received of a battle which took place on the 11th inst. between the Chinese and Japanese fleet. The Chinese were driven off.

An Unconfirmed Rumor.

PHILADELPHIA, August 14.—The startling rumor from Bridgeville that twenty persons were drowned by the capsizing of a sail boat near Deals island cannot be confirmed. This island is in Chesapeake bay, a short distance from the main land. The nearest telegraph office is Princess Anne, M.D., about ten miles away, and people who arrived at the latter place from Deals island today know nothing of the reported disaster. The Associated Press correspondent at Crisfield, Md., telegraphs that the report is not believed there.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons.

NEW YORK, August 14.—The Olympic Club of New Orleans has wired Jim Corbett, offering a purse of $20,000 for a fight with Bob Fitzsimmons. Fitzsimmons has accepted the proposition, but Corbett sent the following answer: "I never saw the color of Fitzsimmons' money. Why does he not come out like a man and issue a challenge to the world? If no one accepts it, it is then my duty to do so."

Texas Democrats—A Redhot Time.

DALLAS, August 14.—The Democratic state convention met here today. The committee on platform is having a redhot time of it and will not report tonight. The free silver question is producing much bitterness in the convention, and if there is a split it will be on this issue.

TOPOGRAPHICAL WORK

TO BE CARRIED FORWARD IN TWENTY STATES.

The Arid Regions of the Pacific Coast to Receive Attention.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—The director of the geological survey has submitted a plan of operation for the present fiscal year to the secretary of the interior, who has approved it. Special attention is to be given to the survey of the mineral-bearing areas of Colorado, Idaho and California. Topographic work will be carried forward in twenty states, a large share of the attention being devoted to the arid region of the interior and to the Pacific coast. Thirty-two topographic parties and twenty-seven geologic parties will be in the field, five of them being employed in the Rocky mountains and their foothills. The gauging of streams and the determination of the water supply of the United States, including examination of underground currents and artesian wells, will form an important branch of the work.

The Fruit Crop.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 14.—Though the fruit canneries are running at their highest speed, they are unable to absorb the immense supply of green fruits and enormous shipments are being made to the east as well as to Europe. For the past three weeks 100 carloads have been sent out of Sacramento, while the San Jose district has contributed thirty-five more each week. The fruits going east are mostly peaches, pears, plums, apricots and nectarines, and their shipment will be continued until November 30th. Reports from various sections of the state say that the fruit crop excels all others, both as to quality and quantity.

Tug of War.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 14.—In the tug of war tonight the Canadians won from the Scotch in eight minutes, the Germans defeated the Russians in fifty-nine minutes and fifty-five seconds, the Americans beat the Swedes in thirty-two minutes and thirty seconds, the Danes defeated the Italians by default.

The Markets.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 14.—Wheat—Quiet; December, 99½c; May, $1.00¾; new, seller 91½c; September, 90c.
Barley—Inactive; December, 91½c.
Corn—$1.40.
Bran—$16 per ton.

THE GOLDEN FLEECE.

The Most Highly Prized of All the Surviving Orders of Chivalry.

Of all the orders of mediaeval chivalry which have survived the shock of successive revolutions on the continent of Europe since the great cataclysm of 1789, that of the Golden Fleece is perhaps the most distinguished and the most highly coveted by personages of royal birth or of illustrious patrician lineage. Students of the history of the art or science of heraldry will learn with interest and pleasure that, the Order of the Toison d'Or of Spain having been conferred on the Duke of York, his royal highness was on Tuesday invested, at Marlborough House, with the insignia of the order by the Prince of Wales, himself a knight of the order, acting in the name of the queen regent and on behalf of the young king of Spain. The secretary of the Spanish embassy, as chancellor of the order, read the royal commission creating the duke a knight, and the august ceremony was also attended by the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha and the Duc d'Aumale as knights of the order, and by the Spanish embassador and the Earl of Kimberley, her majesty's secretary of state for foreign affairs.

The Duke of York only received the badge of the order, in the shape of the figure of a sheep in embossed gold suspended from a heavy chain of gold, but at a chapter of the order or at great court functions at Madrid he would be entitled to wear the full robes, consisting of a long mantle of crimson velvet, cut in the fashion of a sacerdotal cope, richly embroidered at the borders with emblematic devices of stars, half moons and fleeces in gold and lined with white satin, over a doublet and hose of crimson damask. The full robes also comprise a "chaperon," or hood, with a long flowing streamer of black satin, but this headgear has in modern times been generally dispensed with.

Originally the robes of the order, which was founded in 1429 by Philip the Good, duke of Burgundy, were of crimson cloth lined with white lamb's wool, and this circumstance has somewhat strengthened the theory that the golden fleece was instituted by Philip the Good in grateful recognition of the immense treasures which the Duke of Burgundy had acquired from the wool of the flocks reared on his vast estates in Flanders. Be it as it may, the woolen costume was changed in 1473 at a chapter held at Valenciennes for the more costly materials of velvet, taffeta, damask and gold embroidery.—London Telegraph.

LEADERS UNDECIDED

As to What Course They Shall Pursue

WITH THE SUPPLEMENTAL BILLS.

Senators Would Like to Pass the Bills if Revenues Are Not Reduced too Much.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—Democratic leaders in the senate have occupied a considerable portion of today trying to determine what course to pursue with reference to the supplemental tariff bills. The Democratic steering committee was in session two hours after the senate adjourned trying to determine upon the most advisable policy under the circumstances, and previous to this meeting the conservative senators had a conference on the same subject. It is understood that the conservatives advocate the reference of bills to the finance committee, while the steering committee is apparently somewhat divided on the question. Appearances all indicate, however, that a large majority of the Democratic senators would like to have the bills passed if they could feel assured that their passage would not reduce the government revenues to too great an extent.

A Professor Appointed.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 14.—W. A. Merrill of the Indiana State University has been appointed professor of Latin and lecturer of the University of California.

POPULIST INSINCERITY.

A Correspondent's Views of Their Campaign Methods.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—It is an unusual occurance nowadays to see a Populist express himself in a public journal, but a forlorn and lonely member of a society, which will be referred to in the future as the defunct People's Party, lifts his unlearned and prejudiced voice in the support of something which has been ostracized by the thinking public. This angry Populist, full of chagrin and under another nom de plume, shows himself again by supporting such nonentities as Waite, Lewelling and Pennoyer.

It is evident from his letter that he does not know where he, or even his party, is at. The many citizens who have tasted the supposed sweets of Populist company and found them bitter, will be called to in vain by shouting the names of the ex-Populist leaders—Waite, Lewelling and Pennoyer. He who brings before the community now the political ghosts of the gubernatorial politicians who have lost prestige, sway and influence, probably never heard of the proverb they have in the city, and which cannot be applied to him: "A prudent man foreseeth the straw hat with a brick in it and passeth by."

I did not write unadvisedly before as regards these men. Inasmuch as many honest Populists have repudiated Waite, Lewelling and Pennoyer, and many others of the same type of politicians, it comes with bad grace for a lone Populist to publish them as the idols of the party. Only the stereotyped Populist and certain inflammable newspapers incapable of a change of thought or the slightest innovation have the hardihood to unload them upon the people as statesmen. The honest Populist and all other men are ashamed of them. They are dark spots on the gubernatorial history of their respective states. Their inflammable and wild speeches are a disgrace to our institutions and their positions; and strangers visiting our land look askance at us for an explanation.

The best way to obtain their real status is by the opinions expressed in their own states. There is not a newspaper, however insignificant, having a claim for the public esteem which now looks upon Waite as a governor but in name only. Being led around like a little child by outside influences and bosses, he is not the real executive of the state. As far as Lewelling is concerned, observant people know, and honest Populists admit, that he is a demagogue of the blackest stripe. When Lewelling and the Kansas Populists turned against equal suffrage they struck down the arm that had made them strongest in the state. It is not necessary to go further into what is now a matter of public history, and apparent to all but those who, having eyes, see not, and having ears, hear not.

This Populist says that in considering a question, "facts, reason, common sense and logic" should be used. Nothing is more true, and it should be well that Populist speakers took the hint. If this Populist had considered "facts, reason, common sense and logic" he would not have been guilty of eulogizing an official chosen to rule alike over all classes, but who does not, and has been convicted before the bar of public opinion of being a political intriguer and a sympathizer with rebellion against the authority of the United States.

Not long since I listened to an address by a Populist candidate, that for silly gasconading and idle buncombe was worthy to be put side by side with Falstaff's best effort. Unstinted abuse of our country, indecent accusations of our officials, falsification of records and home-made statistics, all common modes of argument resorted to by the Populistic office seekers. They have very little to expect from voters who like fair play and decent treatment. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," is a good maxim, but a difficult, and, it seems, an impossible rule for the Populist speakers to follow. They need reminding that abuse is not a concomitant to a political canvass.

They are continually singing their own praises, and telling the wonders they would do if they became elected. But since the transpiring of certain events, these all-knowing and all-perfect political curiosities are not enjoying the full confidence of their own people even. It has just dawned upon the minds of many of their now vacillating members that they have no reason for believing in the sincerity of their leaders. This lack of confidence has been brought about by their leaders refusing to sign a petition praying that the government assume control of railroads when forfeited. It is one of the principle dogmas of Populism, and the majority of that party are certainly not to blame for objecting to the course of their political leaders. The rank and file of the old parties are joining hands to accomplish a general good, and the Populist leaders, by standing aloof from their fellow men, deserve to be censured as they are.

Many of their numbers have already awakened to the fact that it is the old tale of being deceived in the eleventh hour. When these silurians are approached for a reason for their actions, they give no satisfactory response. Some assume a studied indifference, and others gives as an excuse for their failure to join in a petition with a burdened and progressive people, that they believe the prayer of the petition will not be answered. As the result is a matter of which no one yet knows, the excuse of these Populists is illogical and foolish. If that is their game, then everybody can refuse to vote for J. L. Gilbert, their candidate for congress, for the excellent reason that if he should get there he would be ineffectual and his "prayer will not be answered." Their reason for not attempting to accomplish a public good is a pure and plain subterfuge, and like many other statements of Populist candidates catering for the public favor, will be found, upon investigation, to be a plain unvarnished evasion of the truth. In this country, unfortunately for the Populists, there is no law prohibiting men from repeatedly making fools of themselves.

JUSTIN HUGH.

NO FAIR THIS YEAR.

THAT'S THE OUTLOOK AT THE PRESENT TIME.

The Association Is Heavily in Debt and Race Entries Cannot Be Guaranteed.

"There is very little likelihood of Fresno having a fair or race meeting this year," said John Reichman, secretary of the Fresno Fair Grounds Association, yesterday.

"Of course, I cannot speak positively, but I really cannot see how anything can be done now. It is getting late in the year to begin preparations. Last year the fair was held at the end of September, and we could hardly get ready by then if there were nothing else to be considered. But there are many things in the way. The association is not in a condition to do anything. It is badly in debt, and its property is being foreclosed on by the People's Savings Bank of San Francisco for a liability of $30,000. There are other debts which will bring the total up to $55,000.

"The directors of the association are Dr. Leach, William Helm, J. B. Campbell, F. P. Wickersham, M. L. Woy, O. A. Owen, Alexander Gordon, with myself as secretary. Last year's fair about paid expenses, and there was a whole week of races. But when it comes to a proposition for races this year some one has got to put up the money or guarantees, and that is where the trouble is. The state appropriation cannot be used for any purpose but exhibits and premiums, and without the races it wouldn't be much use holding a fair.

"So far as I can remember, the fair has been held annually since 1882, but these are hard times and I don't think there will be any this year.

"The whole matter is in the hands of a committee, who should be able to report very soon. This committee was appointed about a month ago by the directors of agricultural district No. 21, consisting of Fresno and Madera counties. These directors are Lewis Leach, William Helm, T. C. White, F. P. Wickersham and J. H. LaRue of Fresno county, and William M. Hughes, B. W. Childs and J. M. Griffin of Madera county. The committee are T. C. White, F. P. Wickersham and B. W. Childs.

"It was intended that the fair this year should be given by the agricultural district, and a meeting was held last month with this object in view."

Mr. Wickersham took the same view of the matter as Secretary Reichmun, "It is imposible to say exactly," he said, "but the impression on my mind is that there will be no fair this year. There are so many things to be done and no money to do it with. Even the matter of arranging with the railroad company for transportation of horses is quite a considerable item and the times are very hard. I think you may say there will be no fair the way things look now."

THE HOLINESS DOCTRINE.

The Porterville People Take No Stock in It.

The papers in Tulare county give accounts of a preacher named Davis who has been holding meetings about Porterville, and advocating the doctrine of holiness and complete freedom from sin and temptation. This was all very good, and the people listened attentively to him till he began to talk of leaving his wife, because she was not a believer in the doctrine of holiness. She was in poor health and her husband, the preacher, put in a good deal of his time riding round with young ladies.

The people noticed all this, and when Davis arose in meeting again and said he ought not live with his wife because she was an unbeliever, some of the men grabbed him, and to all appearances were about to hang him when Constables Hockett and Willis came to the preacher's rescue and got him out of the way. It seems to have put a stop to his peculiar preaching on holiness.

A SINISTER THREAT.

The surrender of the Democratic majority in the house and the passage of the senate tariff bill should end one of the most disastrous attempts at legislation that has ever occurred in the history of the country. The threat is made, however, that the war is to go on, and that further wrangling over this question by an impotent administration is to stand in the way of legislation needful to help the country out of the slough of business paralysis into which it has been plunged by prolonged tinkering with a tariff that should not have been disturbed except to make a few modifications, the expediency of which have been demonstrated by experience.

It is so plainly evident that no good can result from a continuance of this hopeless contest by the free-trade element in congress that the political capital which they hope to make out of it will be completely obliterated by the growing anger of a people whose patience has already been put to a test beyond the power of endurance. The most palpably outrageous feature of the bill is the sugar schedule, and the President himself is on record as favoring he duty on sugar, and there is not the slightest probability that the senate can be induced to recede from a position that it has held in other particulars against a violent onslaught by the President and the dominant wing in house.

If this imbecile fight in the Democratic party over the tariff is to be carried into the next session of congress, what is to become of the financial legislation, regarding which Grover Cleveland had so much to say when he was forcing the repeal of the Sherman Act? When is silver to be restored to its rightful place as promised in the Democratic platform, if this miserable tariff farce is to continue to hold the boards indefinitely?

As to the bill which has been passed, illogical, discriminating and sectional as it is, it is far better to let it stand until a party has come into power capable of promptly disposing of its inconsistencies, rather than that this disturbance should be longer continued by a party which has fully demonstrated its incapacity.

The worst things which can be said of the bill now lacking only the President's signature to become a law, has been said by the Democratic press. It has been denounced in unmeasured terms from one end of the country to the other; but as it is evidently the best that this administration can do, certain it is that no more time should be wasted in keeping up an agitation fruitless in everything for the people but idleness and impoverishment.

The Wave refers to the proposition that the government take possession of the Central Pacific railroad under the mortgage due and unpaid as the confiscation of property. It is the same sort of confiscation that is witnessed daily in the foreclosure of mortgages upon debtors who are willing but unable to pay. Why the matter should be viewed in a different light when the creditor is the government and the debtor a corporation able but unwilling to pay, is hardly comprehensible. Whether it would be a good thing for the government to own and operate the property is another question. It would at least serve the purpose of an experiment to demonstrate the feasibility, or lack of it, in government ownership.

In view of the fact that the most practical and certain way to settle the question of transcontinental transportation rates is to construct the Nicaragua canal, it is strange that a more determined effort is not made to bring about the consummation of that great enterprise. If a small part of the energy which has been devoted to political schemes for regulating the cost of transportation had been given to promoting the canal it is reasonable to believe that a permanent settlement of that vexed question would have been reached by this time. One of the most concise statements of the advantages to be derived from that enterprise we have ever seen appeared in a recent issue of the Oakland Times. That paper says: "The Nicaragua canal will shorten the voyage between San Francisco and New York from 15,000 miles to 4907 miles. It will place San Francisco within fifteen days steam in unbroken cargo of New York and within twenty days steam to Liverpool. It will forever solve the question of overland freights and render abortive all transcontinental railway combines. Steamship lines will ply directly between Europe and San Francisco. At once the ports of the Pacific coast will be brought in touch with the commerce of Europe and Asia. Greece, at Corinth, is cutting through a rocky point higher than the great divide in Nicaragua. The German government is quietly excavating a channel sixty-five miles in length for a ship canal. Manchester, England, in order to become a seaport, has just finished a ship canal thirty-five miles long. Egypt long since secured the Suez canal. The Nicaragua canal, is of far more importance to the United States than the works mentioned are to the nations of the old world, and yet Congress has done nothing since 1825 but order surveys and investigations and pass resolutions. The apathy and indifference of Congress concerning this project contrasts strangely with the boasted progress and enterprise of the United States. The recent troubles at Hawaii and Samoa, and the present war between China and Japan furnish a powerful additional argument why the Government should provide for an early completion of the Nicaragua canal. With the isthmus cut through our fleets could rendezvous either in the Atlantic or Pacific oceans at short notice. Now we have the long voyage around the Horn to get our ships from one ocean to the other. The canal would make our shores more defensible, as well as enrich us commercially."

Some days ago The Republican asked how this paper stands on the Reilly funding bill. Since then The Republican's position has grown so uncertain that one of its readers in Central colony asks us to tell how it stands. It's a conundrum that The Republican only can answer.—Expositor.

The Republican is emphatically opposed to the Reilly funding bill, notwithstanding the objections which can be urged against foreclosure. Postponing the day of settlement will not permit the government to regain anything, and there is a possibility that foreclosure will result beneficially in the way of regulating rates. As there is absolutely nothing to be gained by the funding bill, the experiment involved in foreclosure is worth trying. The Expositor, by the way, has not made its silence on this question any less impressive by professing to believe that The Republican is non-committal.

Congressman Bowers sees the coming cyclone and is "agin" the railroad funding bill, and is following the lead of James S. Maguire, as is also Geary. Both Geary and Bowers need watching, however; their past records on tariff robbery is sufficient cause for a weather eye.—Hanford Review.

So far as Congressman Bowers is concerned, his record in congress as a friend of the people is just as good as that of Maguire or any other man, and the insulting allusion to his principles as a protectionist comes with poor grace indeed from the indecently bigoted representative of a party which has shown neither the ability nor the honesty to carry out its pledges.

Notice must again be served on long-winded correspondents of this paper that their contributions are liable never to see the light of day in these columns. We have now in abeyance several more or less able effusions, which would have appeared in print before this time had they come within the limit of reasonable length. Correspondents must observe the rule of stating their ideas concisely if they expect prompt publication.

P. P. P. purifies the blood, builds up the weak and debilitated, gives strength to weakened nerves, expels diseases, giving the patient health and happiness where sickness, gloomy feelings and lassitude first prevailed.
For primary, secondary and tertiary syphilis, for blood poisoning, mercurial poison, malaria, dyspepsia, and in all blood and skin diseases, like blotches, pimples, old chronic ulcers, tetter, scald head, boils, erysipelas, eczema—we may say, without fear of contradiction, that P. P. P. is the best blood purifier in the world, and makes positive, speedy and permanent cures in all cases.
Ladies whose systems are poisoned and whose blood is in an impure condition, due to menstrual irregularities, are peculiarly benefited by the wonderful tonic and blood cleansing properties of P. P. P.—Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 14th, 1893.—I can speak in the highest terms of your medicine from my own personal knowledge. I was affected with heart disease, pleurisy and rheumatism for 35 years, was treated by the very best physicians and spent hundreds of dollars, tried every known remedy without finding relief. I have only taken one bottle of your P. P. P., and can cheerfully say it has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I can recommend your medicine to all sufferers of the above diseases.

MESSRS. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga.: Gentlemen—I have tried your P. P. NAMED THE STREAMER.

A Traveler Interprets a Political Symbol.

A day or two ago a man, whose name is unknown, as is also whence he came and whither he was going, walked up Mariposa street toward the courthouse square. When he had advanced as far as the alley between J and K streets his eye fell on the streamer stretched across the street on which was printed in large letters "Democratic headquarters."

The stranger stopped, spelled the words aloud, and said,

"Yes, I know it, 'Democratic headquarters.' The banner of hard times."

He passed on up the street, muttering "Banner of hard times" as he went.

By this time he had attracted attention and someone asked him if he was a Democrat.

"I used to be," said he, "but I'm no Democrat now. I voted for Cleveland, but I wish I hadn't. Up there is the banner of hard times, 'Democratic headquarters.' Banner of hard times."

The stranger walked slowly up the street, and as far as he could be seen he was looking up at the streamer and exclaiming, "Banner of hard times."

To Release the Industrials.

A petition asking Judge Ross to allow credits for good behavior to the members of the industrial army in jail here was circulated yesterday, and was numerously signed. If the credits are given it will shorten their term about fifty days. This will allow them to get out of jail in time to secure work in the vineyards, whereas, if they are kept in confinement till October the chief work of the season will be past, and they will have trouble finding work to do.

THE RAISIN QUESTION

J. M. Collier Made Secretary of the Combine.

CHINESE ARRIVING BY HUNDREDS

White Men Will Insist on a Dollar a Day With Board in the Bargain.

The directors of the California Raisin Packers' and Growers' Association held an executive session at the Hughes hotel yesterday afternoon to map out a program for the meeting today, at which prices will be fixed.

The full board of ten members were present, with W. H. Hodgkin as president. An important matter brought before the board was the election of a secretary. There were about a dozen applications on file, but in view of economy in office rent, etc., the directors selected an applicant who was prepared to give the company the use of an office free, and appointed J. M. Collier to fill the position.

The directors claim that there is no sign of a secret clique within the organization to defeat the purposes of the combine, and that all the members are solid for a standard of prices and the conducting of business on the lines fixed by the by-laws. All packers not already members of the combine will be invited to come in tomorrow and sign the roll, and after this prices will be fixed.

The rumors that large contracts for raisin picking have been placed with Chinese agents are beginning to assume an aspect of probability, in view of the heavy arrival list of Mongolians within the past three days. Whole wagon loads of them have been sent out of town since Monday, but the arrivals keep pace with the departures, and Chinatown is overpopulated just now. Over a hundred Chinese came down on Monday night from San Francisco, and fifty came up from Los Angeles on the overland train yesterday morning.

The number of white men seeking employment in the vineyards is much smaller than last year's influx. About 200 men were on the ground usually occupied by them in the court house square yesterday. They compared very favorably with last year's contingent, and the chances are that all the men will be at work by the middle of next week. The question of wages has been keenly discussed by them, and an understanding has been arrived at that 75 cents a day "won't go."

Quite a large percentage of the men are Americans and many of them have learned trades. The genus "hobo" is very slimly represented among them. About forty of them were interviewed by a REPUBLICAN reporter, and they were pretty unanimously of the opinion that the minimum schedule should be $1 a day and board, or $1.50 and board themselves. One grower from the south side came into town yesterday morning and hired a dozen of the men for next Monday at the latter figure.

One noticeable feature about the gathering in the absence of aged, crippled and useless men. Pretty nearly every man was decently attired, and looked fit and willing to work. There was an absence of the blowsy, bloated faces and unkempt hair which mark the average tramp. About 5 per cent of the men are Germans, and there is a sprinkling of Italians, but, as before remarked, the general run of them seem to be intelligent Americans who have been thrown out of work by hard times. One of the men was a carpenter who in better times, not long ago, had earned his $4 a day, but has not lifted a hammer for nearly a year. San Francisco has contributed quite a number of general laborers, who unite in saying that things are just as bad in the city by the Golden Gate as before the Midwinter Fair. Six men came up from Bakersfield and report things dull on the ranches there, now that haymaking is over.

An employe of one of the packing companies, who had looked over the gathering in the court house square, told the reporter that he could pretty safely say that the men would all find work and that work could be given to several hundred more of the same kind. Only a small number of the men are Fresnoans, the latter being mostly at their homes waiting the call, but there are many men who have come in from the mountains, being thrown out of work by the shutting down of the lumber mills through overproduction.

Everything is felt to depend on the success of the combine, and there is a general hope that the growers and packers who have thus far held back will come in at the eleventh hour and give everyone a chance to realize something on their investment in capital and labor.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

One of Fresno's Colored Indigents Has a Life Story.

Frank Miller, colored, is one of the happy mortals for whom the hereafter can have no terrors. Like Lazarus, he has endured evil things, and now he is not far from his inheritance of good things, in another world.

Miller is one of a small colony of colored people, chiefly refugees, who live to the northeast of town, near the Pollasky railroad depot. It has been Miller's portion to know slavery. He was owned there, and his master and several sons put on the gray in the Civil War. Miller did not see the logic of ploughing and reaping in order to rivet his shackles on more firmly when his master came back, so he put on a blue coat and "fit for de Union." At the close of the war there was no home for him in Tennessee, so he came out to California. He has been here thirty years and never went to school in his life.

Today Miller sits at the door of his little cabin very much like Uncle Tom in the story, but the commands of the overseer will vex him no more. His chickens and ducks are the old man's only care, for, as he says, "Folks is mighty honest, but there's no harm in watching 'em." Miller gets a small grant from the county. He says he had to work half his life to keep white men in idleness and it's a poor rule that won't work both ways.

Saved by the Ladies.

A good story is told of the Populist candidates in their trip to Pollasky on Monday last. Ben Hill, J. W. Traber, W. T. Shelton and Lemuel Harp were the four burning and shining lights who went up there to teach the Pollaskyans that the salvation of the country lay in paying bills in shin plasters, on the principle practiced by the confederate government. When the orators arrived they they found that Populism was represented in Pollasky by three voters, so that they stood four to three. It happened, however, that a quantity of ice was left over after an ice cream social on the previous Saturday, and the ladies of Pollasky got up a second edition of the social in the pavilion free of charge and invited the visiting orators to address the gathering. In this way quite a crowd was attracted and the "big four" were made happy. They are now firmly convinced that female suffrage is the great need of the age.

Glancing over the paper read
Among a lot of Eastern news
Something which did him amuse.
'Twas about a new ride last Sunday week
When the people got home looking rather meek,
And turning to George Rowell asked
If he had heard the crowd as it passed.
But Bachelor Billy, Ralph Taylor and Tripp
Laughed so hard that poor Fredie did skip
Away from the counter, and out of the store
And nothing was heard from him evermore.

Political Parties Unite in Erecting One.

There is one thing that the three leading local political parties are all agreed upon and that is that the hard times are upon us. They have laid aside all their enmities regarding the different party principles and have come down to a money basis.

As a result, the executive committees of the Republicans, Democrats and Populists have joined forces to fit up a place for outdoor meetings during the campaign. Men were at work yesterday putting up a platform and seats in the southern part of the court house park adjoining the band stand.

The platform is twenty feet square and three feet high. Permanent seats have been arranged about the platform and will accommodate about 500 persons.

CITY ASSESSMENTS.

THE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION AT WORK.

Consideration Given to the Outfall Sewer and Matters Relating Thereto.

The city board of equilization met again yesterday, and proceeded to business. F. J. Haber appeared for Mrs. Eliza Walker, and testimony was taken as to the improvements on lots 17 to 21, block 336, Fresno. The assessment was raised from $1,000 to $1,300.

W. N. Rohrer appeared for R. P. Ashe and the Pacific bank, and asked for a reduction on block 132, Fresno. A reduction from $2,000 to $1,500 was granted.

Dr. J. R. Reilly asked that the assessment on two lots be reduced from $120 to $100. The petition was denied.

The Fresno Gas and Electric Light Company had been notified to appear and show cause why the assessment on certain of their property should not be raised. There was no one who appeared and a continuance was taken till 3 o'clock today. If the company does not appear at that time the board will proceed as seems best.

W. R. Thomas was notified to appear at 3 o'clock today.

The board will this morning visit the outfall sewer and look over the field. A new contract is soon to be let there, relating to the disposition of the sewage. Heretofore it has cost the city $4800 per year to care for this sewage. It has been run on lands, and has made them fertile. The sewer discharges two cubic feet of water per second. This is sufficient to irrigate a large tract of land, and the fertilizing matter carried down by the waters soon would render the land exceedingly fertile. Instead of costing the city $400 per month to care for this, it seems that it could be sold. That amount of water, when bought from the Fresno Canal and Irrigation Company costs $7200. That is, the right to two cubic feet costs that much, in addition to an annual assessment of $100 on each cubic foot for repair of ditches. It would seem from this that when the city pours the water on the plains it ought to sell for something. Los Angeles and Pasadena both sell their sewage. Pasadena receives $2000 a year. Fresno it would seem could at least do as well. It is said that the pouring of this sewage water upon alkali lands soon destroys the alkali and renders lands valuable which formerly were of little value. By extending the outfall sewer a few miles it can be brought upon a wide area of land which can be made fertile and profitable.

It has often been suggested that the city would find it profitable to own a quarter section of land at the embouchure of the sewer, and raise on it what hay is needed for the city live stock, and rent out the balance for gardens or anything else that should be found profitable. By this means a revenue could be derived from the water and sewage which is now an expense. Land there is very cheap.

A Pioneer Remembered.

A letter has been received by Constable W. E. Seehorn of Pollasky making inquiries as to the whereabouts of Captain H. J. Stevens, a pioneer resident of this county. The writer is a resident in Philadelphia and is Captain Stevens' son. He states that he has not seen his father for forty-four years, and wants to know how the old gentleman is fixed. Captain Stevens was at one time pretty well-to-do, but has lately succumbed to the financial stringency and is now an inmate of the city and county hospital.

COALINGA FOSSILS.

RELICS OF THE CREATION OF THE COAST RANGE.

In Those Days the Mountains West of Fresno Were Being Raised From the Ocean.

Edward Kauntze, secretary and manager of the San Joaquin Valley Coal Mining Company of this city, has just received a large chest filled with fossils, obtained by him in explorations of the country around the company's mines at Coalinga.

Mr. Kauntze is not a geological expert, but no expert could have made better selections to enable the age of the formations in which the fossils were found to be determined.

The section in which the fossils were obtained is about four miles from Coalinga, and at an elevation of about 1000 feet above the level of the sea. The average man looking at some of the fossils, which are in type extremely similar to the whelks, clams, mussels and oysters of today, would be inclined to say that the deluge must have occurred about that time, and that this 1000 feet was the local high water mark.

This is not true, geologically speaking, at all events. The records of the rocks show conclusively that the Coast range of California, in which Coalinga is situated, belongs to the exact period of geological history known as the Laramie or Transition era, when the cretaceous passes into the tertiary; the period when the present types of shells and plants begin to appear.

Among the fossils which Mr. Kauntze has found are some which belong to the middle tertiary formation, and a few which are esteemed characteristic of the Laramie period. The giant oyster (ostrea titan) is represented in the collection by two specimens, one of which is thirteen and a half inches long, seven inches wide and three inches deep.

Among the other fossils are cardinus pectens, the tooth of a shark, fossil wood, both coniferous and dicotyledonous; sea urchins of the species echinorachnis, lignite coal, and a belemnite or fossil cuttle fish bone, of a type which vanishes at the close of the cretaceous period.

A SUBTERRANEAN OCEAN.

It Is Believed to Underlie Nebraska, Kansas and Indian Territory.

The best scientists of the land favor the opinion that Nebraska, Kansas and part of Indian Territory are situated over an immense underground lake or sea. It is a well known fact that in several places in Kansas whole sections of land have suddenly disappeared, leaving only fathomless lakelets to mark the spot where they were once situated. Proof that there is something peculiar with the foundation of the section of the country mentioned may be found in the celebrated "tide wells" of Polk, Butler and Colfax counties in Nebraska. Polk county is best provided with these curious wells, having between a dozen and 20 which roar and ebb and flow with an unseen tide. The roaring of these remarkable curiosities—they cannot be called natural wonders, because they are the work of man, at least so far as excavation is concerned—is caused by the inhalation and exhalation of immense quantities of air. There are hours, regular and uniform, in which the air will rush out with a loud, hissing sound, and again an equal space of time in which it seems that all the air of the Platte valley will be sucked into the cavernous depths of these wonderful wells.

The period of this ebb and flow does not seem to depend upon either the seasons or the state of the weather, but is thought to have some mysterious connection with the high and low tide periods of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. A meteorologist of national reputation, who sought to fathom the mystery of the "Platte river tide wells," and who issued a little pamphlet with the title "Roaring Wells of Nebraska," gave it as his opinion that the roaring phenomenon was in some way connected with the prevailing direction of the wind, being strongest in time of west or southwest breezes. The farmers in the three counties mentioned as being best provided with these tide regulated, air expelling wells believe that the water supply is connected with a body large enough to have a regular ebb and flow of tide. All the wells in the counties of Polk and Butler which are tide regulated are of about the same depth, those of Colfax being deeper, but all extending to a porous stratum having the same general characteristics.—St. Louis Republic.

Fraudulent Sweetbreads.

"A true sweetbread is perhaps the most healthy meat that can be eaten," said a doctor yesterday, "but you are never able to get it. The sweetbread proper is the pancreas, which is one of the most effective agents in promoting digestion, but the sweetbread of trade is usually obtained from the throats of cattle and is what is called the thyroid gland. This gland rests against the windpipe, and while its texture is similar to that of the real sweetbread it has not the same beneficial qualities. But some butchers, in order to make money, pass off the salivary gland, that which furnishes the saliva, located in the cheeks, for a sweetbread. This is the most inferior substitute of all. The pancreas, or real sweetbread, is a most dainty morsel. It is of triangular form, while the sweetbreads obtained from the throat are of an oval form. But what is the use of making people dissatisfied? They have been eating thyroid and salivary glands for sweetbreads for years and have been satisfied. But then they have never tasted the real thing."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Tenor's Little Joke.

A popular tenor, whose dislike to encores is well known, had been singing "Come Into the Garden, Maud," when there arose a vehement outcry for an encore.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said the singer as soon as the noise had somewhat abated, "I am sorry to inform you that Maud is laboring under a severe cold. In fact, her mamma has just sent her to bed. Under these circumstances it will be quite useless for me to ask Maud to come into the garden again this evening. As soon as she has recovered I shall only be too happy to oblige you."—London Tit-Bits.

Behind the Age.

When the Mother Hubbard toilet was abroad in the land, one Ohio town distinguished itself by passing a law prohibiting the wearing of the gown outside of house limits. And the landlady of a small village inn in England has handed herself down to posterity in similar fashion by refusing to let two women cyclists, clad in knickerbocker suits, sit down to dinner in her public coffee room.

Washington has salmon fisheries worth $1,500,000 a year and catches 10,000 fur seals. It exports $8,000,000 worth of lumber and coal and raises 15,000,000 bushels of wheat.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

PROBABLE RELOCATION OF THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Terms to Open September 17th. Other Business Transacted by the Board.

The city board of education met last night in regular session. Only three members of the board were present. Trustees Eden and Hadsell are both rusticating in the mountains. The date for the opening of school was fixed for the 17th of September. The new ward building will be ready for occupancy. The contract requires the building to be completed by the 10th of September, which will give a week for a general cleaning up. The secretary of the board was instructed to advertise for bids for furnishing supplies for the coming school year.

Quite a bunch of bills were passed upon and allowed.

A few minor changes were ordered made in the specifications in the high school plans. The board decided to have one of the large class rooms on the second floor divided into two rooms. The architect, G. F. Costerisan, was instructed to have all the detail drawings prepared by the next meeting, which has been set for August 23d, at which time the board expects to advertise for bids for the construction of the building. It has already been agreed that bids will be received for the construction of the building as a whole and also for the construction sub-divided. That is, there will be separate bids for brick work, carpenter work, plumbing, etc.

No allusion whatever was made last night to the alleged threatened suit brought by the San Francisco architects, other than when one member wanted to have an advertisement inserted in a San Francisco paper, calling for bids for a heating apparatus, and another member humorously remarked that he though the San Francisco architects were giving them plenty of free advertising.

It is yet possible that the action of the board regarding the location of the high school building may be changed, judging from the individual opinions given out by the members of the board. But should they adhere to the action already taken, the early part of the school term would be interrupted. School will open in about a month. The law requires that the advertisement calling for the bids for the removal shall run not less than two weeks. And after the contract should be let it will take about two months to move the building and put it in shape again. This fact seems to have considerable weight with some of the members, who have hitherto opposed the purchase of additional property. The idea prevalent is to purchase a site for the high school building. The Terry block is spoken of favorably, but the price is still held a little too high in the board's estimation. The last offer made to the board was $7750 for the entire block, less the improvements.

CATCH QUESTIONS.

Some Puzzling Queries That Appear Not Hard to Answer.

If a goose weighs 10 pounds and a half its own weight, what is the weight of the goose? Who has not been tempted to reply on the instant 15 pounds? the correct answer being, of course, 20 pounds. It is astonishing what a very simple query will sometimes catch a wise man napping. Even the following have been known to succeed:

How many days would it take to cut up a piece of cloth 50 yards long, one yard being cut off every day?

A snail climbing up a pole 20 feet high ascends five feet every day and slips down four feet every night. How long will the snail take to reach the top of the pole?

A wise man having a window one yard high and one yard wide, requiring more light, enlarged his window to twice its former size, yet the window was still only one yard high and one yard wide. How was this done?

This is a catch question in geometry, as the preceding were catch questions in arithmetic. The window was diamond shaped at first and was afterward made square.

As to the two former, perhaps it is scarcely necessary seriously to point out that the answer to the first is not 50 days, but 49, and to the second not 20 days, but 16, since the snail, who gains one foot each day for 15 days, climbs on the sixteenth day to the top of the pole and there remains.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Officers Installed.

Thomas P. Cosgrave, D.D.G.P., was in Fresno Monday night and installed officers of Fresno parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West.

C. T. Cearley was elected president, but was absent and will be installed later.

The officers inducted into office were Dr. A. J. Pedlar, past president; E. T. Wolcott, first vice president; G. C. Freman, second vice president; Wick W. Parsons, recording secretary; Angus Clark, financial secretary; L. O. Stephens, marshal, and W. O. Guard, trustee.

Practicing Without License.

A warrant was sworn to in Justice Crichton's court yesterday by Dr. J. Graham, veterinary surgeon, charging Dr. R. A. Hamilton and Dr. F. A. Moxey with practicing the doctoring of horses without proper license to do so. The law allows veterinary surgeons to practice in the country, or in towns of less than 2000 inhabitants without a diploma, but it does not extend that privilege to towns of larger size.

Poetry All Gone.

The latest news, and in fact about the only news from the Evans-Sontag play, is that the company struck so many snags up in Oregon that all the poetry was knocked out of the combination, and Mrs. Evans and Eva are coming home no more to roam, no more to tackle drama, no more to wear the frizzled hair in battle panorama.

Another Fresno Candidate.

The Chronicle of yesterday says that W. W. Phillips of Fresno is a candidate for the Democratic nomination of state treasurer.

It is estimated that in Japan, out of a population of 37,000,000 people, there are less than 10,000 paupers.

GLIMPSES

AMERICA

From Salt Lake City, with its many interesting sights and mountainous environments, around the shores of the Great Salt Lake, through Weber and Echo Canyons, up Bear River valley, and thence along Snake River, over the lava beds of Idaho, and to Shoshone Falls. Full description and illustration of Salt Lake is contained in No. 6 of

Our Exquisite Portfolio

With all the wondrous scenery thereabout, including Red Butte and Emigrant Canyons, Giant's Cave and its story of slaughter, the Wasatch Mountains, Fort Douglas and the buildings of Salt Lake.

The wonderful formations in Weber and Echo Canyons are likewise delightfully described, such as the Devil's Slide, Gibraltar, Steamboat Rock, Church Buttes, The Witches, and the Washakie Bad Lands with their marvelous form, imitative of tremendous ruins. Thence the reader is taken down Green River along vermilion cliffs, and then back through Ogden Canyon, to Pocatello, and along Snake River through a desolation where the fiery sputa of burning volcanoes has overspread the land and cracked it to amazing depths. Over one hundred miles of scoriæ the excursionist is carried until the weary ing landscape is broken by a view of Shoshone Falls, a Niagara in volume, a mighty, dreadful, thundering sea breaking over cliffs three hundred feet high and plunging into a vortex that is awesome to behold. The description of these amazing falls given in GLIMPSES OF AMERICA, is one of the most exquisite examples of word painting to be found in the English language.
